BRANDED WELLNESS TRAVEL MAGAZINE
PROGRAM FOR ADVISORS

As North America's largest wellness travel magazine, we are pleased to announce our Branded Wellness Travel Magazine Program exclusively for advisors like you.

Wellness travel is one of the fastest growing categories in the industry. As consumer interest grows, so too does the demand for quality content that speaks to wellness destinations and itineraries.

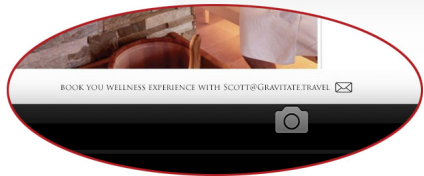

Your branded edition of Wander, shared with your email list, social channels, and on your website, encourages client interaction with your brand, keeping your agency top of mind when they look to make their travel dreams a reality.

Our content is engaging, shareable, and highly actionable, turning readers into customers. The program is an easy and economical way to communicate with your existing clients, and to introduce your brand to wellness travelers as a thought-leader in the industry.

Welcome to your first branded edition of Wander.

How it works.

Branded Magazine

You send us your business logo, website address, and desired contact information (name and email) for your branded edition of Wander.

We deliver a fully-branded PDF version of Wander for you to distribute through your channels, and a custom embed code to add the publication directly to your website for reading, where you can highlight your wellness travel packages and offers.
